

Keating Investments Hires Daniel T. Morris

Joins Origination team responsible for analyzing and evaluating new investment opportunities for pre-IPO fund

August 2, 2011 - Greenwood Village, Colorado - Keating Investments, LLC announced today that Daniel T. Morris has joined the firm as a Vice President and member of the Origination team responsible for analyzing and evaluating new investment opportunities for Keating Capital, a pre-IPO investment fund.

Since 2004, Mr. Morris served as a Director of Semiconductor Equity Research at Oppenheimer & Co., and in 2010, was named a Wall Street Journal "Best on the Street" analyst for the Semiconductor sector.

Previously, Mr. Morris was a Senior Research Analyst at Analysis Group, Inc., an economic consulting firm providing intellectual property valuation in litigation cases.

Mr. Morris received an MBA from the Haas School of Business, University of California, Berkeley, and graduated cum laude from Princeton University.

"We are pleased to add Dan to our Origination team," stated Timothy J. Keating, President of Keating Investments, LLC. "Many of our current and future portfolio companies are and will be in the technology sector. Dan's experience and expertise in this space is immediately accretive to our firm's ability to evaluate the many technology-related pre-IPO investment opportunities in our pipeline."

About Keating Investments, LLC and Keating Capital, Inc.

Keating Investments, LLC is a Denver-based SEC registered investment adviser founded in 1997, and is the investment adviser to Keating Capital, Inc. (www.KeatingCapital.com). Keating Capital is a business development company that specializes in making pre-IPO investments in innovative, high growth private companies that are committed to becoming public. Keating Capital provides individual investors with the ability to participate in a unique fund that invests in a private company's late stage, pre-IPO financing round - an opportunity that has historically been reserved for institutional investors.

To be added to Keating Capital's distribution list, go to www.KeatingCapital.com/contact.

Contact:

Margie L. Blackwell
Investor Relations Director
Keating Investments, LLC
mb@keatinginvestments.com
(720) 889-0133